We have no quarrel with Governor Jim Folsom's decision to sell the state owned jet passenger plane. This plane caused former Governor Hunt his first legal problems and has been misused by other officials. We are amazed that either politicians or representatives of the news media are trying to get the world all upset because Jim has flown on that jet several times. Actually that should make him more informed on the actual need and prepared with first hand knowledge to back up his decision that the jet isn't needed. Ain't politics funny! (or crazy)

Gays in the military or gays openly in the military continues to be a topic of heated discussions. President Clinton promised this change in policy during the presidential campaign. However he ran into a hotbed of opposition from Congress, military personnel and the general public. Many nationally known politicians, from both political parties, have openly opposed this change. This week the president is hearing the same thing from rank and file military personnel. Again, we suggest the matter be downgraded, no witch hunts be conducted for homosexuals, but the policy remain the same. There have been homosexuals in the military throughout recorded time - including the U. S. military, but those who wanted to remain in the service, were closet homosexuals. In other words they didn't parade it down main street. We have no problem with that at all and don't think the American people do either.

The Elba City School Board approved a new board policy last week in their effort to stop any gang activities before they get entrenched. This policy is not as strict as the first one considered by the board members and it may not be enough, but it is a start. We urge parents to support the school administrators as they try to put these new rules into action.

We were doing a bit of work in the yard a couple of weeks ago and friends being as nice as they are, we got a number of toots of the horn as some of these friends drove by. We looked up one time and recognized a particular woman's car. The next week while fussing at her for not stopping to help, she put the blame on her husband, saying he was the one driving and blowing the horn. This means two (former) friends are now

Several good ideas for new laws died last week in the Alabama legislature. Others will follow suit as the current session draws to a close and filibusters cat up the few remaining hours left before adjournment. We did predict the lawmakers wouldn't be able to agree on legislative reapportionment and sure enough they are leaving it for the courts to de-

That teenager girl is now dead chief, two thefts, and one vehicle and several of her friends are hurt badly.

A Visit To The Amazon

The AEA holidays proved to be an educational experience of a life-time for Mrs. Nadine Scarborough, biology teacher at Elba High School. She was invited to accompany Dr. Danice Costes, professor at Troy State University, on a seventeen day educational tour of the Amazon Rainforest and the Galapagos Islands.

The experience began with a flight from Montgomery on March 29. After two exchange flights, Mrs. Scarborough arrived in Quito, Ecuador. Early the next morning by way of military transport, she landed at a small airstrip in Tarapoa. From here they traveled by an antiquated bus for a twenty mile journey over unpaved roads to the Aguarico River to board a twenty foot dugout cance for the seventy mile trip down river into the tropical rainforest. This trip on half hours and was punctuated by heavy tropical rainstorms. Mrs. Scarborough arrived at the Flotel Orellan (three deck boat) soaked and cold. ## Rev. Winston And Ann Jay Attend School For Clergy

Rev. Winston and Ann Jay were among the 140 ministers and spouses from 34 states and Canada who attended the School of Practical Christianity, sponsored by Peale Center for Christian Living of Pawling, N.Y.

The School of Practical Christian-ity was begun in 1975 by Dr. and Mrs. Peale, in response to letters from clergy reporting that they sometimes felt isolated in their pulpits and wanted to be able to discuss with other pastors.

Ms. FBLA. Ms. FBLA was an individual award that was won by Heather Stinson. To achieve this award, Heather had to pass a written objective test about FBLA history and rules. This test also tested her knowledge about parliamentary procedure, business principles, and general information concerning computers. This test would determine six finalists. After passing this test and advancing to the finals, Heather will now travel to Washington, DC, July 5 to represent Alabama at the National Leadership Conference. Laura was chosen as Zion Chapel's candidate because she expressed great interest in the job and she met all of the qualifications of a state officer. All members of the Zion Chapel chapter played a big part in the organizing of Laura's campaign. Members of the FBLA helped by cutting out paper lamps, stapling tags to watches and lips, cutting out and placing badges on bags, and placing little birds on the ends of pencils. The lamps had a tag that read "FBLA AIN'T NEVER HAD A FRIEND LIKE LAURA BROWN". The tag of the lips read, "READ MY LIPS VOTE FOR LAURA BROWN FOR STATE SECRETARY-TREASURER. I want to say a special thank you to each and every one who contributed much of their time and effort. None of it could have been possible without their help and support. It's very special to know that I have friends supporting me in what I do. I know that doing all the coloring of the signs, stapling candy, taping name tags to badges, and the dreadful job of cutting out those little yellow badges really got on their nerves, but I appreciate their patience and devoting almost every spare moment they had to doing it just so my campaign would be a success.

THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Yesterday, today and tomorrow may be easy for us to understand, but for a four-year-old like Melanie the different days sometimes become a bit too much. Melanie asks just about every night if she has to go to daycare when she wakes up, and the answer is usually yes. When the answer is "not tomorrow," she will wake up the next morning and ask if today is tomorrow. Sunday afternoon she took a long nap and when she woke-up the first thing she asked was if it was tomorrow, then whether or not she had to go to daycare. I guess when summer vacation gets here it won't make any difference if it is today, tomorrow or yesterday.

ALCOHOL AND COCAINE

by Harriett L. Griffin - Substance Abuse Counselor

If I Was Alcohol, I Would Be Rich

As clients funnelled in and out of my office, week after week, month after month, year after year, and in and out of drug related treatment programs, I began to think: "If I was alcohol, I would be rich." Very often readers read about the results of the adverse of alcohol on one's life situation and not how it effects the body upon immediate consumption.

Come with me on this mysterious journey as I (alcohol) become employed by you, the employer (the body). I am highly qualified for the job. I have received outstanding evaluations of previous employers and others who have known my work history. All of my employees were well satisfied. My qualifications state that I am non-discriminative, honest, willing and ready to work, years of experience, promising results, never tiring, dependable, and I qualify as a long term progressive runner. My employers were always satisfied, for I guarantee my work. I love my job.

You've just introduced me to your body by way of consumption, entering your mouth with a burning, irritating sensation. I don't taste good, although my employers lie, saying that I do. Oh, how I irritate the esophagus as I travel to the stomach passing through the small intestine, where I am absorbed in the blood stream and being sent to every part of the body, especially the brain. Within 30 seconds of ingestion, the brain allows me to put it to sleep, sedating and killing nerve cells. In the mean time I continue my work on the stomach eating away at the stomach lining. Although I enter the mouth as does food, I can not be digested like food. The liver tries very hard to rid the body of me, but it can only detoxify 1 oz. of liquor, 6 oz. of wine, or 1 can of 12 oz. beer per hour.

For the average employer, this amount will create a feeling of relaxation. Two and one half (2 1/2) drinks of me can affect my employer's judgement and lower their inhibitions. My employers try to eliminate me at times but I am such an expert worker that it takes a long process. About 90% of me is metabolized through the liver. The remaining 10% is eliminated through the lungs and urine. Most of my employers are anxious or greedy. They like having me work overtime. The the body (my employer) reacts in the form of withdrawals (nausea, disorientation, headaches, irritability, and tremors). I poison my employer, but I'm only doing my job.

I cause medical complications with the gastrointestinal system, liver disorders, heart disease, reproduction and pregnancy complications and pancreatitis. I act as an irritant and increase the amount of hydrochloric acid (a digestive juice) that is secreted from the stomach lining. I, in combination with other stomach irritants, such as aspirins, can cause gastritis, ulcers, severe bleeding. The liver maintains a blood sugar level in the body. The sugar is the only source of energy that the brain cell can use. When I am consumed by my employer, the liver's attention is diverted from maintaining the sugar level to ridding the body of me. Liver disorders associated with heavy use of me are: 1) Fatty liver; 2) Alcoholic hepatitis; and 3) Cirrhosis of the liver. Moderate consumptions of me cause a significant rise in blood pressure. Heavy use of me is an important factor in causing high blood pressure and enlarged heart, which increases the risk of a heart attach or stroke. As few as two drinks of me a day can lead to impaired function of the heart! In reproduction and pregnancy, heavy use of me causes missed menstrual periods in women, diminished libido (sexual desire) and possible sterility in men.

The pancreas makes the amylase and lipase, which are enzymes to help digest food and help the body to heal when it is cut. I change the secretions of the pancreas, robbing it of insulin. There I cause the body to have pseudocystic pancreatitis, which causes the body to suffer from secondary diabetes, due to lack of insulin. These are only a few of the organs of my employer I effect and a few of the medical complications I cause. My job is to destroy every organ in my employer.

Now that you have been informed of my qualifications and made aware of some of my b duties, you may want to increase my pay. My quantity of work has proven to cause a high percentage of deaths, liver diseases, dysfunctional families, and traffic accidents/

Who am I to strut with a chip on my shoulder, who am I? I am the over qualified employee who, when hired by my employer, destroys the body functions. My job is to irritate and sedate. I am alcohol, I am rich. Who am I? I wish that I was alcohol, I would be rich. However, I am just an employer (the body).

ing three to five minute high is followed by an unpleasant crash where the user feels irritable, agitated and has an intense craving for more cocaine. Craving is caused by the high concentration of the drug in the bloodstream. What the user does not understand, is that the initial high will never be reached again. However, they continue to try by using more and more crack cocaine.

Cocaine and crack cocaine constrict the heart's blood vessels, making it work harder and faster to move blood through the body. In some users, this stress may trigger chest pains or a heart attack. Cocaine and crack cocaine can cause brain seizures. This is a dissurbance in the brain's electrical signals which regulates the heart and the muscles controlling breathing. Other effects of cocaine and crack use include: suicidal tendencies, dramatic mood swings, chronic nose bleeds, runny nose, a sore throat, loss of friends, and former values, miscarriages, birth defects, weight loss-resulting from loss of appetite, chronic headaches, addiction, crime and arrest, destruction of families, and ultimate-

It causes, dysfunctional families, low self-esteem, uselessness, embarrassment, loss of homes, job, respect, and most of all freedom. Freedom of being yourself. Let us reclaim our bodies by ridding them of unsafe thoughts and thinking positively in an effort to help save ourselves. Reclaim our communities and neighborhoods by not allowing the Flunkies and Super Flunkies to bring drugs in our neighborhoods. Let us free our people and live drug free.

Reclaim what is yours, teach your children respect for themselves and others will respect them.

"COCAINE"

My name is "COCAINE" Beware, my friend, my name is Cocaine, Coke for short.

I enter this country without a passport. Ever since then I've been hunted and scalped by junkies and pushers

Plain clothes picks, mostly by users who need a quick fix. I'm more valuable than diamonds, more treasured than gold.

Use me just once and you too will be sold. 'll make a school boy forget his books. I'll make a beauty queen neglect her looks. 'll make a school teacher for get how to teach.

I'll make a preacher forget how to preach. All kind of people have fallen under my wing. Just look around and see the results of my string. 've got daughters turning on their mothers. 've got sisters robbing their brothers.

I've got burglars robbing the Lord's house. I've got husbands pimping their spouse. I'm, the King of Crime and the Prince of Destruction. I'll cause the organs of your body to malfunction.

I'll turn the honest man into a crook. I'll make you rob, steal, and kill when you're under my power,

You will have no will. Remember, my friend, my name is "Big C." Some call me the white lady. I've destroyed politicians, sports heroes. I've decreased bank accounts from millions to zeros.

I'm a bad habit too tough for the man. I've caused the law to hire more hands. Yeah, I'm raising hell all over the earth. Don't believe me, check out brain Hurst.

I've got them standing on street corners yelling "rock." I have made shooting and stabbing common on the block.

Well now you know what I do. Remember, my friend, that it's all up to you. If you decided to jump in my saddle,
